PRENTISS JEWELRY

In 1996 Martha Prentiss printed her first catalogue featuring over 20 years of her own designs and jewelry. Of her work she states: "My goal has been to create designs that are simple, elegant and wearable. In my work, there is focus on contrasts between silver and gold, between smooth and textured between light and dark."

After 40 years of producing and designing new work, Martha Prentiss Jewelry designs will live on through the JANE IRIS Collection, who has exclusive rights for the continued manufacturing and sale of the entire Martha Prentiss Jewelry line as it becomes available.

A portion of the profits on each currently available item sold is to profit the Lewy Body Dementia medical research and various local lesbian and feminist organizations. Find her jewelry designs currently for sale through:
