

A Gift for You

Here,
is a gift for you
It is endless, even boundless so take as much as you need... then take some more.
I assure you the supply of the gift
is boundless

Here...
This is free and freely offered no strings
no expectations
... only the desire for you to take all you need and then take some more...
Be sated, not just full

Here
is the opportunity to fill yourself
to replenish yourself to imagine yourself or fulfill your image of yourself
It is up to you how & when or if you make any use of the gift.

Here
is my gift of words.
Birthed through the merger of heart and intention; the desire to honor the past by naming the legacy and the Spiritual shoulders that created the ground on which I am...

Here
to give to you what I have deciphered
of my life notes... interpreted from my charts and runes regarding the galaxies of difference,
distinction and being

Here, Taste and take of moments only now comprehended the sounds of life's renewal and miracle the sheer magic of being who I am and we are

It is here...
Here!
Take all that you need, even that which you are unsure of its use

Take it all and save what you want until you know it was meant to be used or passed on or released again into the world.

There really is enough – more than enough for everyone – everyone who wants to take.

Here,

drink deeply of any or all of the libations offered.

Ask for what you may not immediately see
...it is all here

ready and available...

I want you never, again, to thirst.

Replenishment is constant

Effortless and

Always on time!

Please drink deeply!

You've been thirsty too long

Drink deeply and never thirst, again.

Here,

Eat well and hankering will cease, allowing you to eat sumptuously to never hanker, again.

Graze, if you like; scarf if you must, pile a plate as high as the sky

or eat in courses.

It only matters that you eat well.

Eat well and be sated.

Here,

I cannot tell you what to take.

I cannot teach you what is best for you, or most useful for what you do.

I cannot even assure you that you will find that which you seek or think you need.

The process and the responsibility is totally in your control.

However,

If you take the journey and you find something for you, know in that moment you are welcome to take it all,
then take some more.

Here

Is a gift intended for all willing to explore the journey of life.

Take all you need

Create what you believe missing

There is plenty, including Plenty of room for you on this
Or another path;
At this

Or another table...

Eat, drink, dream and be plenty for yourself!

Then you will be plenty for others.

Here,

Take all that you need and more and
Be plenty for yourself and others.

Take what you need – take all that you need and
Be plenty for yourself and others.

–Sabrina Sojourner

BIO: Shaliakh Tzibur and Community Chaplain Sabrina Sojourner has been leading services, teaching and cultivating curiosity within Judaism for nearly 20 years. She's been a featured speaker, scholar-in-residence and faculty at synagogues, conferences, retreats and Shabbatons across the country.