MujerArtes' Sale

October 25th- November 8th!

Enjoy beautifully, handcrafted art pieces in celebration of Día de los Muertos!

Since 1995, Mujer Artes Cooperativa de Esperanza Peace & Justice Center's members have shaped clay into historic snapshots of their lives as Chicana/Mexicana/Latina women. Each of their painted creations is unique and makes a wonderful gift!

Shop online at www.facebook.com/MujerArtes or call 903.600.1066 to schedule an appointment to visit the studio from 9am to 5pm.

Esperanza's Día de los Muertos November 1-8, 2021

Join la Buena Gente de Esperanza for our annual celebration at the Rinconcito de Esperanza! A large outdoor community altar at the corner of Guadalupe & S. Colorado streets will honor the dearly departed we hold dear, as well as victims of COVID-19. A dozen community altars will also grace the Rinconcito at 816 S. Colorado. Thank You Jardin Volunteers!

In preparation for Día de los Muertos, the Esperanza initiated the project Jardines y Viviendas del Westside, a community garden project in response to the Pandemic and Gentrification. Centered in San Antonio's Historic Westside, the compasúchil (marigold) gardens were planted at El Rinconcito de Esperanza as well as at the Alzán-Apache courts. The project included a Limpia (cleansing) of Our Barrio and Ambiente. Visit El Rinconcito, 816 South Colorado St. (@ Guadalupe St) where the Jardines start and drive the neighborhood to view our work del alma y corazón. Special thanks to the many volunteers and workers that made this possible and to the Arnosky family farm in Blanco, Texas who donated thousands of marigolds to beautify our Westside! ¡Que vivan los Jardines!
